

Handwritten text consisting of a series of characters and symbols, possibly representing a code or a specific notation. The characters are arranged in a single line and include letters, numbers, and symbols like dots and dashes.